KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS TO HONOR SOLDIER MEMBERS

Patriotic Demonstration at St. Patrick's Church on Next Sunday Morning is Being Planned By Knights.

The local order Knights of Columbus are planning a patriotic demonstration at St. Patrick's Church on next Sunday in honor of six of their members who will leave next week for Fort Thomas to enter the military service of their country.

It is planned to have a prominent speaker and likely Hon, Ed J. McDermott, of Louisville, former Lieutenant Governor of the state, will be induced to come to Maysville for the celebration.

There will be other important features to the program and a committee is now making final arrangements which will be announced to the public just as soon as completed.

This organization has given several of their members to the army and navy and although this demonstration will be especially in honor of the six men leaving next week, the men who have gone on before will also be honored at the meeting.

Full particulars will be made public just as soon as possible and the public will be invited to attend the demonstration

MEN HAVE PLENTY OF TIME TO PREPARE

The seventy-four Mason county men who were yesterday mailed their notices to entrain on July 18th for Fort Thomas have plenty of time to get ready for their trip before being inducted into service. The most of the men received their notices yesterday and arrangements were immediately begun for entering the service. Several of the young men came to Maysville yesterday to arrange their business here.

Men Registering Last Month Will Be Classified This Week-Examination to Be Made Before Close of the Month.

> Mason County Exemption Board will begin the classification of the men registering on June 5th last ometime this week so as to be ready for the expected call from the state djutant to begin the physical examination of all men just registered. The local board expects that they vill be able to classify all of the men egistering in one day and it will take them but a couple or three days to give all of the men their physical ty will be filled up and will become

It is thought that the great majorty of the men to be classified will be put in Class 1 for only a small part of the men have any dependents at all and only a very few of them are married. The great majority of the men are stalwart youths who will pass the physical examination and not have been made. Mr. Rains is the members of the local board except ery few to be rejected as physically ınfit.

Indications are that men register ng under this latest law will be calld into service during the month of August and therefore all classification and examination but be out of the way efore the close of the present month

The district medical board with leadquarters here is also expecting early orders from the state adjutant o get ready for the examination of all appeal cases sent to them by the local boards in the counties comprising this district. They are not anticipating any great amount of work and expect to finish their task in a very short time.

A NEW CAMPAIGN

This is a day of campaigns, drives, etc. Recently we have had Liberty Loan drives, Red Cross campaigns, W. S. S. sales, and so on.

Having become accustomed to these calls upon our patriotism and sense of personal obligations, the end of the first half of the year should find us in a pretty good frame of mind for a Pay-Your-Bills campaign.

There are still a good many business houses and professional men who extended credit for six months to approved customers. Some of these accounts, for different reasons, may go over for twelve

In all cases the business man needs the money, and during these times he needs it more than ever.

One person may think that his own indebtedness is of small consequence, especially where the amount involved is not large. But if a large number of men or families think that way, the sum thus kept out of circulation becomes very considerable.

Another thing to remember is that a dollar started out July 1 or January 1, on its debt paying journey settles many accounts before it stops. The merchant cannot pay the jobber unless the customer pays the merchant. The jobber cannot square himself with the wholesaler until the merchant settles with the jobber, and so the they are. The fact that they are in process goes.

Hundreds of business men who extend credit to customers are compelled to carry notes at the bank until uay-day arrives. This costs them money in the form of interest and if they are unable to meet their obligations when their notes fall due their credit is injured.

Hence let us be fair. Let us start out today on our rounds and inaugurate a "Pay-Your-Bills" campaign. We will feel better ourselves and it will help to keep the wheels moving in all directions.

The fact is that every Maysville business man has been hit "hard" in the recent campaigns to help the war and now is the time for the customers of these business houses who owe a small bill to go and pay up, so the merchants' life will be made easier. As everyone knows it is no joke to run a business in war times. We know the people are having it lard too, but the merchants are having just as hard and if they cannot collect their outstanding money they are sure to have a much harder time.

THE DAILY GERMAN LIE

A group of anti-English lies is reported from Boston, Massa. chusetts, to the effect that England has more soldiers in Ireland than in France; that England has used colonial troops exclusively; that England is using our wheat to make whiskey; and that England allows only 58 words at a time to come to this country by cable.

Observe the convincing exactness of the number 58. Such care ful details are characteristic of the pro-German liar. He does it scientifically even when he is most absurd. The English censorship puts no limit on the length of cable messages to this country.

The English are not using our wheat to make whiskey. For more than a year past, no whiskey has been distilled in Great Britain. The production of beer has been reduced to one-quarter of what it was before the war and under recent orders from the Food Controller the alcoholic strength of this beer has been reduced to 2 per cent. Non-intoxicating beverages are allowed to contain one per cent. of alcohol. No unmalted barley is now in the hands of the English brewers or malsters. Their whole stock of unmalted grain was requisitioned for bread-stuffs last February.

Of all the men serving in the British arm yand navy, of India, Africa, etc., 70 per cent. have been English and Welsh, 8 per cent. Scotch, 6 per cent. Irish and 16 per cent. Canadian, Australian, etc. Among these troops, the casualties have been 76 per cent. English and Welsh, 10 per cent. Scotch, 6 per cent. Irish, and 8 per cent. Canadian, Australians, etc. The Englishman, therefore, has not only done nearly three-fourths of the fighting for Great Britain, but he has done more than three-quarters of the dying.

The disposition of the British forces is a secret, but there have tion for it is reported that there are been 7,500,000 of them in service since the war began, and of this number probably half have been in France. If there have been more than that in Ireland, the British troops there have almost equalled in number the entire population of the island, counting men, women and children. This sounds like rank flattery, from a German agent, to the well-known fighting spirit of the Irish people.

All such anti-English stories are a part of the campaign of the Kaiserites in America to make us suspect our British Allies. There is not a word of truth in them.

GLORY ENOUGH FOR ALL

"I have lived both in Germany and the United States and I believe that America alone could beat the Germans." Lord North. cliffe thus informs the Petit Parisien; and his flattering words will be appreciated over here. But we hope that it will never fall to the United States to have to beat the Germans without assistance. Our Allies who have hus far kept up the warfare against the Hun are not yet bled white and they will hold the line till we can adequately reinforce them; and then, all together, the Allied armies will ined immediately by a physician. cross the Rhine. That we shall make the largest contribution to the final campaigns of the war is undoubted. That we shall be entitled to the credita of having produced victory will be the verdict of history. But there will be giory enough for all; and luckily Lord Northeliffe's belief will not have to be put to the test.

IN EGGS MUST GET LICENSE

food Admaistration Says That Even Hucksters and Storekeepers Handling Eggs in Case Lots Must-Have License.

State Food Administrator Fred M. Sackett Saturday issued the following general builletin on the licensing of egg and poultry dealers:

I quote below from Bulletin No. 1033 issued at Washington. This bulletin is official. It means that all persons, including hucksters, storekeepers, produce buyers, car-lot dealers, and retailers who ship eggs in case lots, etc., must have a license to buy and sell poultry and eggs, regardless of the amounts of the busiless done. This license is secured by application to the License Division, Food Administration, Washington, D.

The only exception to the requirement for license is the farmer and he retailer who sells to no one else but an actual consumer.

"The President's Proclamation of May 14th, requiring the licensing of those engaged in certain lines of business including 'operators of poultry and egg packing plants not already licensed by the United States Food Administration.' has been misunderstood by some of those affected.

Under this classification, anyone who sells poultry and eggs in any other way than at retail to the consumer, regardless of the amount of business done, must be licensed.

There are many country storekeepers whose business is mostly retail selling, but who buy eggs, and sometimes poultry from the farmers. They have never considered themselves as operators of poultry and egg packing plants, but in reality that is what retail business on too small a scale o require a retailer's license does not alter the case. In order to comply with the law they must all fill out blanks obtained from the United State Food Administration and have license issued." There has been a misunderstanding due to the form of certain letters sent out in reply to application for license which stated that retail dealers did not require a food license unless they did a business of one hundred thousand dollars. That referred to the gen eral food license, and did not refer to the license to sell poultry and eggs The persons listed above to-wit: ship eggs to other dealers, are considered to be wholesalers, and do not come under the hundred-thousanddollar classification.

I hope you will see to it that this rule is faithfully carried out. Report each violation to me at once, giving me the facts, with names and ad-

COAL PRICES HAVE BEEN GRADED ON SCALE

Mine Run Basis Will Not Be Allowed Where Meshes Are 1888
Than Six Inches.

Wiley B. Bryan, Federal Fuel Administrator for Kentucky has announced that operators will not be permitted to charge the prevailing mine run price on coal which passes over a screening less than six inches For coal the largest lumps of which will pass through a five-inch screen the operator must make a reduction from the mine run price on coal which passes over a screening less than six inches.

For coal the largest lumps of which will pass through a five-inch screen the operator must make a reduction from the mine run price, the reduction averaging 11/4 cents per ton. The reduction on coal which passes through a four-inch screen will be 61/2 cents per ton; three-inch screen 61/4 cents per ton, and two-inch screen 15 cents, the reductions being based on the differential of 25 cents between the price allowed on mine run and that allowed on screenings.

The following graduated scale for creened coal is now effective:

Mine run which has passed through no larger than a two-inch screen, 40 per cent. of present differential of 25 cents between the price on mine run and screenings.

Mine run which has passed through o larger than a three-inch screen, 75 per cent. of present differential of 25 cents between the price on mine run and screenings.

Mine run which has passed through no larger than a four-inch screen, 90 per cent, of present differential of 25 cents between the price on mine run and screenings.

Mine run which has passed through o larger than a five-inch screen, 95 per cent, of present differential of 25 cents between the price on mine run nd screenings.

Mine run which has passed through a six-inch screen or larger, current mine run prices.

"It has been the custom of some coal operators to apply the straight mine run price, regardless of the size of the screens over which the coal has passed, and it is believed that the es tablishment of prices on this basis will have a tendency to stop such practice," said Mr. Bryan

RHODE ISLAND RED EGGS HAVE HATCHED WELL

Fully Two Hundred Chicks Are Re ported Over the County From Full Blooded Eggs Distributed This Spring.

Reports reaching the officials o the Mason County Poultry Association are to the effect that fully two thousand full blooded Rhode Island Red chicks have been hatched from the eggs which were distributed in all parts of the county by the Associaion at cost in the very early spring.

The hatch is considered good and he chicks are said to be fine ones From these chickens it is hoped to establish a breed of chickens that will become general over the whole of the. county and Mason county will gain a reputation as being one of the best Rhode Island Red counties in the state. Eggs from these full bred chickens will next year be sold by the Association to others that they too may become breeders of full stock fowls and it may also become necessary to import quite a number of eggs from other nearby counties.

The interest taken by the members of the Poultry Association has greatly benefited the county and will no doubt make of Mason county a famous poultry raising county.

CONSTIPATION

And Sour Stomach Caused Lady Much Suffering. B Draught Relieved

Meadorsville, Ky.-Mrs. Mearl Patrick, of this place, writes: "I was very constipated. I had sour stomach and was so uncomfortable. I went to the doctor. He gave me some pills. They weakened me and seemed to tear up my digestion. They would gripe me and afterwards it seemed was more constipated than before.

I heard of Black-Draught and decided to try it. I found it just what I needed. It was an easy laxative, and not bad to swallow. My digestion soon improved. I got well of the sour stomach, my bowels soon seemed normal, no more griping, and I would take a dose now and then, and was in good shape.

I cannot say too much for Black-Draught for it is the finest laxative one can use."

Thedford's Black-Draught has for many years been found of great value in the treatment of stomach, liver and bowel troubles. Easy to take, gentle and reliable in its action, leaving no bad after-effects, it has won the praise of thousands of people who have used it. NC-135

DIAZ-THE MAN OF THE of his distinguishing traits.

By R. E. Renaud.

Though the whole world is ringing with the name of General Armando Diaz creator of the greatest victory his people have celebrated since they were knit together in a modern nain Italy. Too short a time in sugathered about him the tradition of and modesty have kept him somewhat out of the public eye.

Yet this personal characteristics are clearly illustrated in the battle which has just been fought. More than anything else it seemed to be the almost instant reaction of the Italians, their extraordinary promptness to attack from defensive positions, which disorganized the Austrian invasion, piled it up like a railroad wreck in the mountains and left it stranded on the banks of the Piave at oMntello. This "certain suddenness" is General Diax to a "T". Moreover the readiness of the Italians was abviously ot improvised. It was built upon careful, scientific preparation against any eventuality. That also is the way General Diaz works-secretly and thoroughly.

In last year's disaster at Caporetto, which cost Italy nearly all the gains she had won in the war and much of her own territory, it was said to have been central Italian troops and larg-e ly Neapolitans who succumbed to enemy propaganda and broke before the German attack. Yet General Diaz is a Neapolitan born under the shadow of Vesuvius fifty-six years ago. If Naples felt a special concern for the catastrophe at Caporetto she also has cause for special rejoicing over the victory on the Piave.

Of Spanish Extraction

General Diaz comes of a noble family. As the name suggests it is of Spanish origin and the Italian branch doubtless dates from one of the frequent Spanish invasions of centuries ago when Italy was the battlefield for the world.

Like Generals Foch and Petain, General Diaz began his career as an artillery officer. He was educated at the famous Military Academy of ond Lieutenant of artillery, in which branch of the service, he remained until he was made a Captain. But theer is in Italy a still higher education for army officers known as the School of War for which sixty pupils are selected every year from the entire army. General Diaz was one of these sixty and year after year was among the few chosen to serve on the General Staff.

He remaine with the General Staff practically throughout his career except when reestablishing contact with the troops, he served as commander of a battalion of infantry and later of a regiment. On the General Staff he was for a long time head of the "Personnel Office". It was there that

During the Libyan Campaign he served in the field as Colonel of the 93d Regiment of infantry. It was the Battle of Zanzur (June 8th, 1912) that he proved his quality as a commander of sharp decision. The main Italian positions had been assailed by the Fanatical Arabs in six successive waves and the troops were in imminent danger of giving way. It was tion, he is one of the least known men then that Colonel Diaz, posted on the left with his regiment, delivered an preme command of the army to have impetuous bayonet charge upon the right flank of the enemy, throwing annecdote woven around most suc- him into confusion and carrying the cessful generals, his own reticence day for the Italians. Colonel Diaz was also present at the second battle of Zanzur. It was these two great actions, the most important of the Libyan war, that decided the issue and after the second victory peace was signed by Turkey within a month At the beginning of the present war General Diaz was head of the Office of Operations at the Supreme Command. He showed himself such an excellent organizer with so much directing genius that he was naturally in line for the chief commandership when the disaster in the mountains necessitated a change of leaders.

Fought Way Across The Carso Before this however he held command of the Eighteenth Army Corps of the Third Army, including the fanous Brigade of Greadier-Guards and the Laria Brigade, which so distinguished themselves on the Carso. The Carso is a high and desolate plateau between Gorizia and the Adriatic Sea. By the middle of last summer the Italians under General Diaz had forced their lines half way across it in the direction of Trieste. The fighting became very fierce at the little village of Selo and at the Dosso Faiti, a strong position which formed a bastion for the Austrian right flark. But Diaz' men in repeated and frocious drives took both places. They were holding them when the defection of a part of the Second Army far to the north of the mforced a rectreat of the whole line right back and down to the plains of Venetia.

General Diaz is described as extremely likable by all who know him. He is somewhat under medium height and rather dark, with black hair and cropped mustache now turning to gray. He is a constant smoker but his manner strikes the observer as calm and even contemplative except when he is issuing orders when he becomes most incisive and direct. However, he is not a great talker and is known as a man of few words and seems to be both analytic and synthetic, for he not only knows how to You never can tell. By tomorrow plan with the greatest elaboration but executed at once and down to the last detail. Like General-issimo Foch he believes firmly in the offensive and, holds that no army which is not aggressive at the right moment can hope to win.

Since the Battle of the Piave General Diaz has already been advanced seventy numbers. However it is almost certain that he will be raised from Lieutenant General to the position of 'Generale d'Esereito.." There are at present only two men in Italy commanded the Italian armies during Experiences told by Maysville peothe Libyan war.

YESTERDAY AND TODAY

Yesterday the wrist watch was the fad of sissies and today it is the necessity of soldiers going into battle. Yesterday Uncle Sam was smashing the railroads into small units and today he is preparing to operate them as the largest trust in the world.

Yesterday it was fashionable to see how much you could waste and then indirectly brag about "the things one really and truly must have to get on with," while today multi-millionaires are eating corn bread. Yesterday all the blatheskites point-

Yesterday hundreds of men I know or know about were earning with their brains tens of thousands of dollars for themselves every year, whereas today they are toiling for Uncle Sam at two centse a week. Yesterday it was the fashion for the vast majority of people to spend every cent they earned, but today 10,-000,000 people own Liberty bondsmostly paid for out of savings.

RHYME MADE OF NAMES OF SIGNERS

Colonel Ben LaBree, Descendant of Moulder of Liberty Bell Sets Name of Declaration Signers to Rhyme.

(Louisville Courier-Journal) Col. Ben La Bree, a great-greatgrandson of Charles Stow, who was erty Bell, has written in rhyme the names of the fifty-six signers of the believes the young folk will find this one. The famous ancestor of Col La Bree was also doorkeeper of the Provincial Assembly at the time the bell was cast. Aprops of the rhymes giving the names of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, Col. La Bree calls attention to the fact that the ongevity was remarkable, as three lived to be over 90 years of age, ten to be over 80 years of age, eleven to be over 70, fourteen over 60, eleven were more than 50 when they died. six were over 44. One singer, Mr. Lynch, lost his life by accidental drowning at sea when he was thirty years of age. There were men of many vocations who signed the famous document, including twentyfour lawyers, fourteen agriculturists four physicians, one minister and three who were preparing for the ministry, but chose other professions, one manufacturer and nine merchants ..

GENERAL SAVINKOFF IS CHARGED WITH MURDER

German Newspapers Accuse War Minister in Kerensky Cabinet as Man Behind Von Mirbach Murder.

London, July 8 - The murder of Count von Mirbach has caused great excitement in Germany, the Exchange Telegraph correspondent at Copenhagen reports. All the German newspapers use violent expressions in commenting upon the event, but at the that the Bolsheviki government was not connected with the assassination The Wolff Bureau telegram from Mosow, the Copenhagen dispatch adds, declares the social revolutionists admitted they were concerned in the plot to assassinate the ambassador. German newspapers are now pointing to General Savinkoff, who was war minister in the Kerensky cabinet, as the man behind the 'Von Mirbach plot which is being gradually developed by the Teuton press into a great anti-German movement, backed by all those men whom Germany found to be hindrances in her plans of aggression in Russia. MIKE BROWN'S STORE ROBBED SUNDAY NIGHT

For the Second Time in Past Month Robbers Enter and Rob Big Implement and Auto Store-Police Follow Up all Clues.

It was learned vesterday morning upon opening the big Mike Brown store on Square Deal Square, that thieves had entered the store during Sunday night had taken $12.25 in money from the cash drawer. Whether any of the merchandise had been taken or not will not be known until an inventory is taken.

Mr. Brown was in the store on Sunday afternoon and he is positive that the robbery was committed some time during Sunday night and probably before or shortly after the robbery at the Wells Restaurant. The officers are of the opinion that the man who robbed the restaurant also robbed the implement store.

Entrance to the building was gained from the rear through a window and no trace was left of how the robber left the building. His tracks were well covered up and left nothing upon which the police might build a clue. The Brown store was robbed in the same manner on a Sunday night about three weeks ago and Mr. Brown is of the opinion that the same man came back the second time.

The police have the matter in hand and they are working on the robberies at Bauer & Klipp's, Wells Restaurant and the Mike Brown store together for they believe that one has some bearing on the other two.

This wave of small robberies has been sweeping over Maysville for the past month and the police are determined to run these to the ground in order to break up the petty thievery before it developes into something serious. Every clue the police have on the two robberies reported to them Sunday night will be run to the same time are generally in agreement ground and the Brown robbery which was not reported to the police until yesterday afternoon will be investigated thoroughly

> Arrests in the robbery cases are to be expected in a short time.

RESIDENCE ENTERED

Residence of George Dale in West Third Street Entered But Nothing is Missing.

It was discovered yesterday afternoon that some one had entered the home of George Dale in West Third street between Saturday and Monday but nothing was missing. Clothing was thrown about the house and a davenport was upset in the floor.

The would-be thieves had entered the house through a rear window but left no clue upon which the police might work. They were evidently looking for money as nothing was taken and there was no money in the house at the time.

Mr. and Mrs Dale from home since Saturday and just when the house was entered is not known as it was not discovered that the visitors had been there until the family returned yesterday afternoon.

PENNIES MISSING

Supposed That Bays Robbing Bauer & Klipp's Store Also Entered Navarre Cafe.

It developed Monday that very likely the boys who are supposed to have robbed Bauer & Klipp Store also entered the Navarre Cafe and stole from one of the show cases a number of pennies which are kept in a small box there for change at the cigar counter.

A back window at the Cafe is kept open and the boys who climbed on back sheds to gain an entrance into the Bauer & Klipp Store could have easily climbed through this window into the Cafe. The pennies are all that is missing in the Cafe and no race of the robbers has been left. At all of the robberies reported from Sunday it appears that the thief or thieves were only looking for cash is Being Used By Kansas City Chamber of Commerce and Is Suggested For Maysville and Mason County.

Most every day some new plan or dea is advanced to help win the war. The following block by block canvassing plan is being successfully used by the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce and it is recommended to the thinking men and women of Mason county:

"The Chamber of Commerce of this city has found that the work incident to the successful conduct of by the block-by-block plan of canvassing which the Chamber of Commerce is now using. The work is comparative few of the business proessional and business men and the entire city of about 100,000 populations can be canvassed in one or two state. days even more completely than was possible under the old system which required from one to two weeks.

"The block-by-block organization is ot greatly unlike that of a well planned political organization. The city s separated into three divisions each division into three or four sections. each section into groups and each group into from six to a dozen blocks Those in charge of the divisions are called majors. The major appoint section captains the captains appoint group lieutenants and the lieutenants name the block sergeants. To those ranking above the sergeants is assigned the work of organizing the ampaign, and to the sergeants is asigned the work of canvassing each resident in the blocks of which they have charge. All the workers are supplied with badges.

"The organization differs from that f a political body in that each group of blocks includes parts of at least hree precincts. By disregarding preeinct boundaries the organization cannot be accused of being used for politics or by politicians.

"On the day designated each sereant visits every home in the block to which he is assigned. With the work in the hands of 1,600 workers one man to each block the canvassing required only a few hours and the burden is lifted from the shoulders of the few individuals who are usually responsible for the success of such undertakings. Campaigns barticipated in by only 200 persons require week's time in addition to the week which it takes to organize the movement.

"The Chamber of Commerce formed this organization by first sending out an appeal for volunteers to help conduct war campaigns, and then mailed return cards to those who responded favorably asking them to send in the names and addresses of others who they believed would be willing to give their services for such work. The officers of the Chamber of Commerce are confident that all the war work activities hereafter undertaken by the Chamber of Commerce will be conducted more quickly and successfully by this method than ever before, the statement is justified in the light of the Chamber's experience with such campaigns in the past, even those which were conducted by the old method, which have all gone 'over the top.'

STATE TO HELP IN ROAD RULLD. ING HERE

County Judge Purnell and the County Commissioners spent yesterday in Frankfort in conference with the state road officials in regard to the assistance of the state road department in road building throughout Mason county this year. Mason county has applied for and has been granted state aid for road building which will enable the commissioners to do more road work than they could have done out of the county funds alone. So far the commissioners have done much constructive work on the roads and pikes of the county but they hope to accomplish much more before the winter months are here.

COMMISSIONERS HOLD MEETING TODAY

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of County Commissioners will FOR SALE-Nice house and Store and be held today at the Courthouse and important business is to come before them. Besides a great amount of business in connection with the improvement of several of the roads of the county, the matter of printing the WANTED-SCRAP IRON FOR GOV. ballots for the August primary will be taken up and discussed. Routine business is also said to be rather heavy for this session and the commissioners will likely be in session for the entire day.

CAMPAIGN FOR GIRLS' HOME CLOSES TOMORROW

Workers are Asked to Make Final Reports Here Wednesday-Public Urged to Contribute to Worthy Cause.

All persons in Maysville and Maon county who are soliciting contributions to the Vocational Training School for Delinquent Girls are requested to complete their canvass and leave their collections at Mr. Stanley F. Reed's office on Court street by Wednesday, July 10.

Those who have not made contributions but who wish to contribute may also leave their contributions with Miss Mary Newell in Mr. Reed's office.

We can afford to contribute liberally for this cause since the Federal war campaigns is greatly minimized Government will give a dollar for every dollar raised in the state. So long as there is a military training camp in the state the institution will be undone by the masses instead of by a der joint State and Federal control. When the training camps are removed from the state, the institution becomes the absolute property of the

To the state the institution is a means of preventing the depths of human degradation, of the possible rehabilitation of character, and of converting by vocational training economic liabilities into economic assets. It is also a means of preventing the spread of loathsome disease.

To the Federal Government these institutions, to be established in every state having military camps are a War Emergency Measure for interning disease carriers to curb the spread of dishonorable diseases that cause more loss of time to the army than wounds received in battle and require for treatment hospital space the time of physicians and nurses and costly medicines.

When you help build these Detention Home Schools, you help the cause of human uplift and in a very vital sense help win the war by helping to keep the soldiers fit to fight.
